KLAMATH PROJECT

ENGINEERS MAKE AN EXPERT INSPECTION.

Government Will Drain Two Interstate Lakes on the Border of Oregon and California—Storage Reservoirs Will Be Built in Both States—One of the Largest Irrigation Schemes on the Coast.

F. H. Newell, chief engineer of the United States reclamation service, Morris Bien, attorney; J. P. Lippincott, supervising engineer, and Thos. Neal, soil expert, have made a week's inspection of the proposed irrigation system to be built by the federal government in the basin of the Klamath river.

The basin of the Klamath river is in Northern California and Southern Oregon, the state line cutting the area in two. The storage reservoirs will have to be built in California for the irrigation of land in Oregon, and water will also have to be stored in Oregon for the irrigation of land in California. In addition the Klamath river is both interstate and navigable. It is proposed to drain two large interstate lakes.

Interstate navigable waters are under the jurisdiction of the federal government. This project, therefore, if it is to be fully developed, becomes distinctly of a federal character. Special legislation, both federal and state, is required for this work.

SOUTHERN EDUCATORS.

Teachers at Jacksonville From All Over the South.

Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 19.—The early prediction that this year's meeting of the Southern Educational association was destined to be the most notable in the history of the association is verified by the completed programs for the meeting which have just been issued.

The convention will be held in Jacksonville during the three days beginning December 29, in conjunction with the annual meeting of the Florida state teacher's association. The participants will include leaders in all branches of learning from the teachers of the humble district schools to the presidents of the highest universities and colleges. All of the states from Maryland to Texas and from Missouri to Florida will be represented.

In addition to those actively engaged in teaching the attendance will include several governors, state superintendents of public instruction and others interested in educational matters.

Mme. Modjeska in Vaudeville.

New York, Dec. 19.—The latest of the vaudeville stars to be recruited from the ranks of the legitimate players is Mme. She made her debut this afternoon at the Victoria Theater, appearing in a condensed version of one of the emotional plays in which she became famous.

Mrs. Livermore's Birthday.

Boston, Mass., Dec. 19.—Mrs. Mary A. ### Three to Pay Death Penalty.

Rome, Ga., Dec. 19.—The execution today of Jack Bone is the first of three hangings which are slated to take place in the county jail here during the next twenty-four hours. Bone will be followed to the gallows tomorrow morning by two negro murderers, Courtney Baker, who killed his wife, and Bob Sutherland, who killed three negroes at a dance.

Pere Marquette Mortgage.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 19.—At a special meeting here today the stockholders of the Pere Marquette road voted to authorize the execution of a mortgage for $60,000,000 in lieu of the refunding mortgage for $65,000,000, dated July 11, 1904, which will be cancelled. The new bonds will run for fifty years and will bear 4 per cent interest.
